Figures for the public employment offices throughout the state were made public by Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews in a report which showed that 77,168 jobs in private industry were filled by the public employment offices in this state during the first six months of 1936 This report, which gives an account of the activities of the New York State Employment Service and the National Reemployment Service for the first half of this year, listed also 10,568 jobs filled in public works and governmental service and 123,169 emergency work placements. the last including WPA. The total placement figure is 210,905.

Andrews pointed out that the placements in private industry, totaling 77,168 as mentioned above, is an increase of 45 7 per cent over the total for the corresponding period last year, and an increase of 11.1 per cent over the total for the last six months of 1935 It is also noteworthy that the jobs filled in private industry during the first half of this year He Prosecutes "Angel" top those for the first half of 1929 by more than 11,000. Dr. Townsend Prefers Landon to Roosevelt

Boston, July 27 (A)-Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the pension plan which bears his name, declared here he would rather see Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas elected President than Roosevelt.

"Personally," he told a local rally "I am going to support Lemke (U. S. Representative William Lemke (R) of North Dakota, Union party candidate for president) although, he added:

Lemke is not the best man in the nation But he is clean and honorable and he has endorsed our plan."

As the choice between the President and Landon, said the elderly California physician to interviewers after the rally:

"Of course, I'd prefer Landon to Roosevelt. The most disastrous thing that could happen to this nation would be to see this administration go back."

Paris is not all riots and strikes. While the city and nation seethe in what might develop into another revolution, the Blum government goes ahead doing things .- Some of them are drastic from the American viewpoint, though less so than we would expect from a government calling itself Socialist

One of the most notable acts in the last few days has been the approvalby the Chamber of Deputies of a government bill for nationalising the arms industry and taking over private armament factories. These will not be confiscated, but bought by the government at prices based on the average value of their shares during the last seven years. There has been some talk of such action at Washington, by congressional committees.

Premier Blum also calls for financial support of his government, and says: "Sooner or later the nation travels throughout the entire body will get even with the citizens who, is now measured in order to note the in a dangerous crisis, filled the vaults condition of the heart. Discover Stone "Telescope" 4,000 Years Old.

Bismarck, N. D.—The influence of Mayan culture upon the primitive peoples of the Great Plains has been further corroborated in North Dakota with the discovery of a stone "telescope" in a gravel pit north of Grand Forks in the Red river val-

Edward A. Milligan, North Dakota archaeologist directing excavating of Indian village sites for the WPA, announced the discovery. He estimates the instrument was used by the aborigines who roamed this area about 4,000 years ago.

Hewn from a form of limestone that has become almost as hard as marble, the telescope is 8 inches long and 1½ inches in diameter; it has a conical cylinder 1/2-inch in diameter at the eye end. On the exterior is a single carved symbol, the nature of which is unexplained.

The telescope was one of the numerous artifacts recovered from the gravel pit, a graveyard of prehistoric people. Archaeologists know tubes of this kind were employed for astronomical purposes, because carvings on the Mayan pyramids of Central America depict people of that era studying the heavens with the tubes in connection with their worship of the heavenly bodies.

Mr. Milligan believes that the Girl, 10, Wins Place in Mayans, their relatives or offspring migrated by way of the West Indian islands to Florida, thence along the Appalachians to Ohio, and thence along the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers. He points out that ar-tifacts of Mayan character have been found along this supposed route and as far west as Yellowstone National park.

Firemen Held Gala Parade Saturday, 15 Groups Represented

A gala day was Saturday when more than 15 companies of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association marched the full length of the city to the tunes of spirited and gayly dressed drum corps and bands that led the "smoke exters" through lanes of cheering spectators, who stood on the curbs along Broadway and other streets along the line of march.

A fitting conclusion to the first annual convention of the Ulster county firemen was the big parade, which took 50 policemen to handle, and showed the various kinds of fire fighting apparatus, and one old parade carriage, the shiny vehicle proudly drawn by members of Union Hose, bringing back the days when showy things were the order of the day in firemanic circles. The parade was lengthy enough to consume fully a half hour to pass a given point.

Port Ewen Unit Large

The Port Ewen Fire Co. with its Ladies' Auxillary, attired in blue dresses and capes, was about the largest unit in the parade, and as the ladies marched they were accorded with generous applause all along the route of the procession Port Ewen stood out as the most completely organized unit in the parade, too, having its own fife and drum corps to lead it.

With a motorcycle escort of patrolmen, the parade started at 2:30 o'clock promptly, from points on East Strand and proceeded up Broadway with Mayor Conrad J. Heisel-man and other city officials riding behind the leading police officers. Next came exempt firemen in autos and Chief Joseph L. Murphy and In Conservation Work $24,481.02 of Taxes detail of paid firemen.

Heads Parade.

The American Legion Drum Corps from Kingston Post marched at the head of the first division and with music for Cornell Hose and the El-ienville Fire Department. Catakili American Legion marched in the first division also, at the head of Rapid Hose, and the Walden Fife and Drum Corps played the marche for the New Paltz firemen.

Inthe second division were Maghogomeck Fife and Drum C. of Port Jervia, playing for Weiner Hose of Kingston and the Port Ewen corpe leading its own fire company and auxiliary.

Union Hose, led by the Italian-American Band of Kingston, headed the third division, Centerville and musical organizations made up of the 156th Regiment Band of Highland and Lafayette Post Legion Drum Corps of Poughkespaie.

When the parade disbanded uptown on Maiden Lane after going up Broadway and through the business district around Wall street, the firemen and their bands went to the various fire stations where they were entertained and dined until late in the evening.

Visiting firemen long will rememton hosts among the members of the volunteer companies and the paid firemen, who left no detail undone to take care of their guests in the most cordial and elaborate way. Many complimentary remarks were heard from those of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association who visited here during the convention, and the feeling manifested was that the county sent will be a popular choice for another convention before many years pass by. Next year T. Groves, resides.

Yery Appreciative

Very appreciative are the members of the fire association as exemplified by the following letter received today by The Freeman: "The committee in charge of arrangements for the first annual meeting and convention of the Ulster County Volunteer Fire men's Association wishes to thank you for your fine cooperation in helping to make the convention the success that it was. Very truly yours, Edward F. Moran, president; L. E. Dunne, secretary, and Nelson Snyder, assistant secretary.

The committee in charge of the banquet held Friday night at the central fire station during the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, through its chairman, John A. Henney, of Weiner Hose Company No. 6, thanks all those who belped to make the affair a success. Chairman Heavey's associates on the committee were Richard Hinkley. A founder is one who lays the foundation of, who establishes or endows, who originates. It may be that the person who originales the idea for an organization lacks the power to establish the organization and calls in some one else; or, it may be that a group of persons originate the idea. In either case, says Literary Digest, those who actually establish the organization are called cofounders. But the term founder cannot technically be applied to any person who did not actually participate in the original conception. The exception is in those organizations in which monelary funds are requirite to the extablishment. In such instances, the Baba, the pseudo founders or cofounders are those Turk, on his back who denote the funds which actually bring the organization into bring. Those who may draft the original lution or who may serve as first officers are meanly called "charter members."
